Reason code: chargeback_fraud

Merchant Response

The merchant asserts that the transaction for 2500.0 INR associated with order identifier order_WIN_TEST1788102109 was fulfilled in accordance with the purchase agreement and therefore does not constitute fraudulent activity. The logistics record confirms that the shipment was delivered to the customer's address in Koramangala, Bangalore, Karnataka. The delivery was executed by BlueDart under tracking number AWB-102109 and was recorded as completed on 2026-08-28 at 15:01:56 UTC. Proof of delivery is available through the provided document link https://cdn.aegisflow.mock/pod/order\_WIN\_TEST1788102109.pdf, and the system indicates that a single delivery attempt was sufficient.

Customer interaction data from the CRM system shows a single support ticket related to this order, which has been closed. The ticket summary indicates that the customer requested a refund on the basis that the color of the item received was incorrect; there is no mention of non-delivery or any claim of unauthorized transaction. The merchant did not issue a refund, and the fraud risk score assigned to the transaction is 0.15, reflecting a low probability of fraudulent behavior.

The combination of a confirmed delivery status, verifiable proof of delivery, and the nature of the customer's complaint supports the merchant's position that the goods were received as intended and that the dispute reason "chargeback_fraud" is not applicable. No evidence has been presented indicating that the customer failed to receive the product, that the shipment was misdirected, or that the transaction was unauthorized. Consequently, the merchant requests that the chargeback be denied and the payment of 2500.0 INR be retained.
